IMPACT STORY

Wilson Chabu

From his youth, it was clear that the gracious hand of God was upon the young life of WILSON CHABU. At 15 he became a Christian when a former Sunday School teacher preached the gospel to him. A year later he was baptized. Shortly thereafter, he recalls, "I received a call into the ministry at a very tender age, my final year of high school". By 23 young Chabu was studying theology at CCM where he thrived & grew rapidly. Uniquely gifted by God in biblical interpretation, teaching & preaching the Word, evangelism & disciple-making & missions, it was hard to determine his primary calling. After graduation he served as a church elder & engaged in South African missions before settling into a full-time pastorate in Zambia. Chabu reflects on what God has done for him: "CCM has immensely impacted my spiritual life and ministry when I see how God is helping so many lives under my ministry - as a pastor, in counseling, in preaching the Word, in discipling & equipping those coming up in the Lord, in lecturing at CCM, in university ministry to students & in doing missions. I am so grateful for the lessons, the knowledge, the exposure and the mentorship that I got from CCM". Though almost 20 years has passed since Chabu graduated from CCM, from boyhood to manhood, the gracious hand of God continues to rest on his life & ministry!
