

Centre for Christian Missions

IMPACT STORY

Christopher Kalaba

CHRISTOPHER KALABA, “a man with a big heart”, loves God and loves people! Blessed by God with boundless energy, a gigantic smile and overflowing relation-ability, Kalaba always wants to do more for God and people! A police officer by trade, Kalaba studied at CCM to be equipped for Christian service. “CCM was a game changer,” says Kalaba, “I had such practical courses like church planting, pastoral ministry, missions & computer studies which really helped me.” After graduation Kalaba was appointed as a chaplain for the Zambian police where he impacted many spiritually. He also served for two years in Sudan as advisor to the United Nations on the Abuse of Human Rights. Returning to Zambia, he planted a church and today pastors God’s people. He later planted a preschool and primary school in his community so the children can know God’s love! Kalaba dreams of planting more churches and schools and has set his sites on establishing a hospital to help hurting people! Though increasing in age, Kalaba refuses to slow pace and wants to burn out for God. The “man with the big heart” remains on-the-move for God because he loves God & loves people!