

Centre for Christian Missions

IMPACT STORY

Benson Sachingezhi

BENSON SACHINGEZHI was born to communicate God's Word! He is passionate about teaching the Bible in the church, schools, Bible colleges, clinics and prisons. He even launched an online podcast to have a global impact for Christ! A native of Zambia, Sachingezhi became a Christian at 21. He served as a school teacher and pastor bi-vocationally for just under ten years before going to South Africa for missionary service. In South Africa, Sachingezhi teaches God's Word in the church and community and at a Bible institute that he leads. He acquired a Masters and is working on a PhD in Missiology from CCM. He says, "I have taken up the teaching role at a Bible institute using the knowledge I have acquired at CCM and that has qualified me to disciple others. We are training students from all over Africa". "Preach it Right", his weekly online podcast, already has over 5000 followers after just one month. While most African Christians use the internet for casual social & spiritual postings, Sachingezhi is harnessing it to transform lives for Christ. This entrepreneurial spirit is trail-blazing in Africa today! "My passion" Sachingezhi says, "is preaching the sound gospel of Christ". This he does, both locally and globally! He has become a man of impact for Christ & His Kingdom!